Miami Attorney Being Honored for Charity Work

April 15, 2014

Staff Reports--HispanicBusiness.com

A Miami attorney will be honored next month for his philanthropic work with the elderly and disabled adults.

Jorge Luis Lopez is receiving the 2014 Claude Pepper Memorial Community Advocacy Award from United HomeCare, a nonprofit home and community-based care organization in South Florida. The "40 Years and Beyond" celebration takes place May 15 at Miami's Jungle Island.

"I owe a great deal to Claude Pepper for his valuable guidance in public service and philanthropy," Mr. Lopez said in a press release. "I am grateful to have been selected to receive this prestigious award ... and hope to continue working to improve the quality of life for the elderly and disabled."

Mr. Lopez serves on numerous boards of charitable and not-for-profit organizations such as the American Cancer Society, Miami-Dade Cultural Affairs Council and the Miami Children's Hospital Foundation. His Miami-based law firm specializes in governmental affairs, representing Fortune 500 companies.

The advocacy award is named after Claude Pepper, a U.S. Senator from Florida who passed away in 1989. United HomeCare will also recognize organizations and individuals from the South Florida community during the dinner, which is celebrating its 20th year.
