POWER COUPLE JORGE LUIS AND MARILE LOPEZ RECOGNIZED FOR EXTRAORDINARY WORK WITH CHILDREN BY THE BOYS & GIRLS CLUBS OF AMERICA

MIAMI, FL – July 8, 2014 – Power couple Jorge Luis and Marile Lopez have become honored members of the Boys & Girls Clubs of America's The Jeremiah Milbank Society. The Jeremiah Milbank Society is a national recognition society named after a life-long volunteer and finest example of in the history of the Boys & Girls Club Movement. It is designed to embolden and promote individual giving of unrestricted funds to Boys & Girls Clubs as part of an annual giving strategy.

"As parents of five children we believe that young people, especially those with the most challenges, need our support to help reach their full potential. Through our annual giving we help provide children a safe place to learn and grow, strengthen life-enhancing programs and other projects that can make a difference into molding these children into caring, responsible and productive citizens, as is the mission of this organization. In turn, our decision to give is an easy one. We are humbled by this honor that groups us with such a great name in philanthropy," said Mr. Lopez.

Jeremiah Milbank's extraordinary, long-term concern for youth and those in difficult circumstances helped shape this organization. He drew no distinction between illness in both the physical and social sense, which deprived children of a fair chance in life. It is this altruism that served as the inspiration of The Jeremiah Milbank Society. As members, Mr. and Mrs. Lopez will provide the leadership and support needed to Boys & Girls Clubs of Miami-Dade to achieve its vision. Just like Jeremiah Milbank gave of himself with genuine compassion for others and his financial support, so will they.
